FROM THE PRESIDENT

There is no gainsaying that in recent memory, this year's struggle was the hardest, this year's effort the strongest, this year's support the most heartening. All Centenary's people are grateful for the advances in the adjoining list.

— "U.P.S.T.R.E.A.M." indeed!

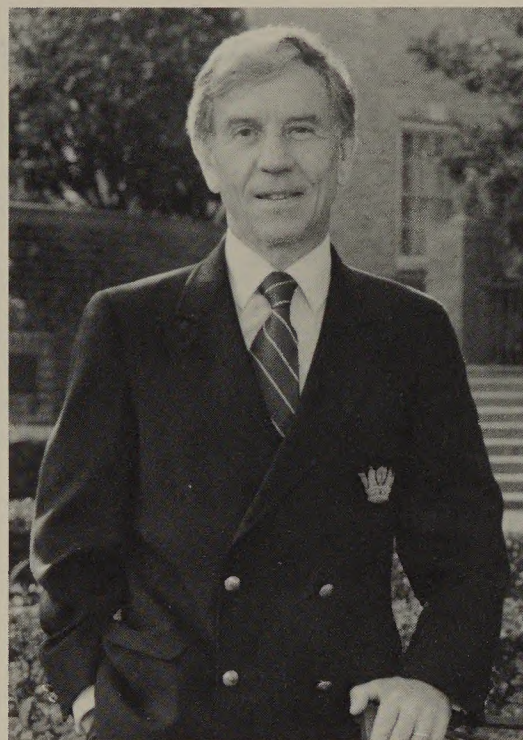

Yet, perhaps this significant list does not include our most promising advance. For long, hard hours these past two years, a group of the College's brightest minds – faculty, staff and trustees – have worked with me, envisioning with daring but practical grasp, what Centenary might be, at its best – in teacher quality, facilities, programs, fiscal strength, student life ...

And the process came to a decisive stage in May. From months of arduous creative labor resulted "The Strategic Plan." There remains the input of alumni and students; close refining by faculty, trustees and staff; the final touches. And our intention to advance is no longer only determination, but a concrete, detailed and feasible plan.

Shaped by consensus of the entire Centenary community, it will become, with the dedicated support of that community, reality: the best that the College can be – by the year 2000.

This is not mere dreaming; purposeful design is our commitment. We are encouraged by such important external evaluations of Centenary's present basic quality as "A Best Buy in College Education," so named by Edward B. Fiske of The New York Times; U.S. News and World Report's listing as "Among America's Best Colleges," Peterson's listing among the most competitive colleges, and the Carnegie Foundation's classification of Centenary as a "highly selective liberal arts college."

But our confidence lies here: a structured, creative design, enabled by the undergirding of Centenary's people, is a master plan for a superb future.

Dr. Donald A. Webb, President

1986-87

— The region's most difficult economy since ... 1938?

YET:

Faculty

Four Centenary professors are publishing books (e.g. Dr. Earle Labor on Jack London)

Sixteen have presented applauded monographs (e.g. Dr. Frank Carroll on music)

Seven are leaders of prestigious organizations (Dr. Austin Sartin, for example, is president of the national honor society in geology, Sigma Gamma Epsilon)

Enrollment

The 86/87 enrollment improved once again ... and, most unusually, the spring enrollment was higher than the previous fall!

Alumni

Participation by alums increased in every measurable activity: Homecoming, Class Reunions, college events, financial support.

Finances

The Great Teachers-Scholars Fund exceeded its $1,050,000 goal by $359.

Over $900,000 was given in scholarship aid.

The Church gave $472,165.

Alumnus Syd Turner gave $480,000 for the Turner Art Center.

The Moore family gave $50,000 for the Moore Student Center.

Added to the endowment: over $1.6 million, bringing the total market value to over $26 million.

CENTENARY AND THE CHURCH

As an institution of the United Methodist Church, Centenary is committed to nurturing in its students an awareness and appreciation for the values of the Judeo-Christian tradition with its emphasis on the dignity of the individual, its reverence for truth, and its compassionate understanding of human weaknesses and aspirations.

Centenary College and the United Methodist Church, ... We have a partnership that works! Since 1845, these two institutions have complimented one another well.

Last year the Church assisted Centenary in its recruiting effort by providing names and addresses of prospective students. Six churches were cited for their outstanding recruiting efforts on behalf of the College. Winners of the 1986-87 Bishop's Awards were Broadmoor UMC, Shreveport; Aldersgate UMC in Slidell; Springhill UMC; Winnfield/Couley/Sanders Chapel Charge; Hosston/Gilliam/Belcher Charge, and St. Andrew's UMC in Baton Rouge.

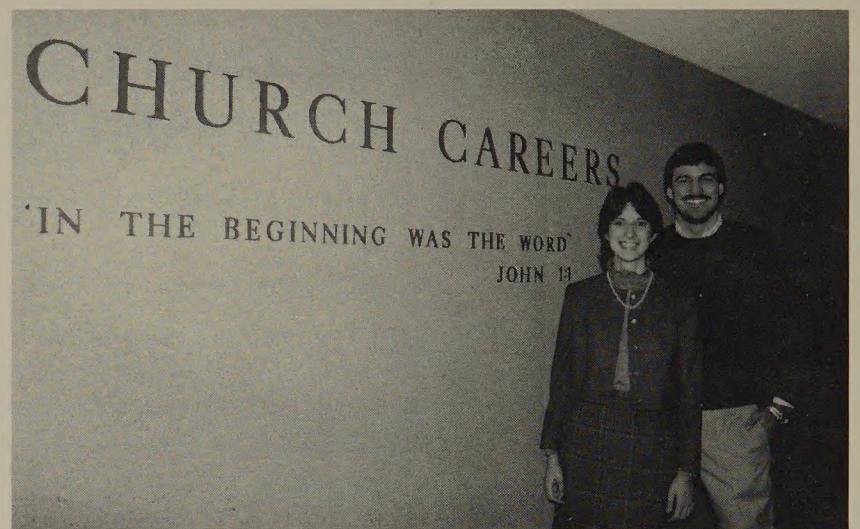

In addition, the United Methodist Church undergirded the College by her steadfast, financial support. Church-related scholarships, apportionments, and grants are evidence of the Church's commitment to higher education through Centenary College. For this kind of support, Centenary is most grateful.

In January, Centenary sponsored its annual "Study Week," continuing education event in which talents of noted lecturers and leaders in fields relative to ministry are secured for the benefit of the clergy of this Conference. The College also held a Confirmation Day for Methodist youth to aid in acclimating them to the structure, workings, and outreach of the Church. In addition, the school presented programs upon request, to various youth groups of the Conference as well as entertained individual church groups who scheduled visits to the campus during the year. The 17th session of the Louisiana Annual Conference was hosted by Centenary College again this year as it has been traditionally done for many years. During 1986-87, the School of Church Careers graduated seven students, most of which are now serving in church-related vocations.

This year, work began on a new Centenary publication entitled, The Journal, which will be mailed in November to clergy living in a 250-mile radius of Shreveport. The purpose of this periodical is to provide ministers with useful and interesting information relative to the Church.

Four ministers from throughout the Conference were chosen to be the first Ministerial Fellows: Larry Norman of First UMC in Alexandria; Wayne Evans of Davidson Memorial UMC; Steven Caraway of the Church of the Covenant in Lafayette, and Rick Hebert '69 of LaPlace UMC. The Fellows each spent a week on the Centenary campus working with the College's faculty and using Magale Library in the research area of his choice.

Listed here is only a sampling of the vital interactions between these two tremendous institutions. Centenary College and the United Methodist Church – working together and making a difference!

The 1987 Centenary Lady and Gent, Sue Joiner and Bill Ball, are both graduates of the Centenary School of Church Careers.

MAJOR GIFTS

Attaway Lectureship

A first-of-its-kind endowed lectureship at Centenary College has been established by Mr. and Mrs. Douglas F. Attaway. Interest from money given to the Attaway Endowment Fund will be used to support a Douglas and Marion Attaway Distinguished Visiting Lecturer project. In several years, the lectureship might take the form of a Distinguished Chaired Professorship, lasting one, two or three years and rotating throughout all the academic departments. Our deepest thanks for this generous and creative gift.

Turner Memorial Art Center

A chance remark at a Los Angeles breakfast table led to the Sydney Turner Memorial Art Center at Centenary College. The early morning conversation included Mr. Turner and his sister and brother-in-law, Hazel and Algie Brown. "If you want to leave a lasting gift," said Mr. Brown, "leave something to Centenary College." Part of Mr. Turner's gift of $480,000 was used to renovate the structure at 3000 Centenary Boulevard, formerly the residence of Centenary presidents. The remainder of the gift was used to create an endowment fund, the income of which will be used to maintain the center. The College is so grateful for this 'jewel in the crown.' (Editor's note: The College was deeply saddened by the death of Mr. Turner Sept. 29, 1987.)

Our grateful thanks to members of The President's Club who contributed $5,000 or more in unrestricted funds to the Great Teachers-Scholars Fund or the President's Matching Fund, 1986-87.
